

Can I talk to a stranger?

Who will help me?

I'm lost.
Where do
I go?

Stranger Awareness Class for Parents

Tuesday, May 24, 2016

6-7:30 p.m. Free

Sunnyvale Public Library, Program Room, 665 W. Olive Ave.

Presentation provided by the Sunnyvale Department of Public Safety

Stranger Awareness class is different from the idea of Stranger Danger. Stranger Danger suggests that all strangers are dangerous, which is not true and can cause a child to be afraid around all people. Sometimes a child may need to interact with a stranger to get help and children need to be confident to seek the assistance of someone he or she does not know. This class will provide helpful techniques for parents and caregivers to teach their children how to keep themselves safe, recognize who is a safe stranger, how children can stay safe around people they already know and some internet safety tips.

Although content is child-friendly, the class is intended to guide parents. Child care is not available.
